

FISCAL NOTE

HB 1

January 24, 2001

SUMMARY OF BILL: Provides for the election of presidential electors by congressional district. Under the bill, one elector would be elected in each congressional district with two electors elected at large. Presidential electors at large would be required to cast ballots for the presidential and vice presidential candidates receiving the largest number of votes in the state. Presidential electors from each congressional district would be required to cast their ballots for the presidential and vice presidential candidates who received the largest number of votes in the congressional district.

Under present law, Tennessee's electors are elected at large.
